

PRESS KIT: Kathryn Croft – The Writer in the Window

Overview

Bestselling thriller author Kathryn Croft is taking on a bold and unprecedented world-first literary challenge: to write a full-length novel of 80,000 words live in a public shop window, in just 7 days.

This creative endurance feat will take place in the brand-new independent bookshop, Paper Moon, in Guildford, Surrey.

Event Details

- Location: Paper Moon Bookshop, 13 Jefferies Passage, Guildford, Surrey, GU1 4AP
- Duration: 7 consecutive days from Monday 1st – Sunday 7th September
- Daily Writing Hours: 10:00 AM – 6:00 PM (8 hours per day)
- Total Writing Time: 56 hours
- Target Word Count: 80,000 words
- Dates: Monday 1st – Sunday 7th September

Why This is Unique

This is believed to be the first recorded attempt of its kind worldwide. The event offers a rare glimpse into the creative process of a thriller writer, while also supporting and celebrating the opening of a new independent bookshop. It is a challenging test of endurance, and spectators will be able to watch Kathryn write in real time.

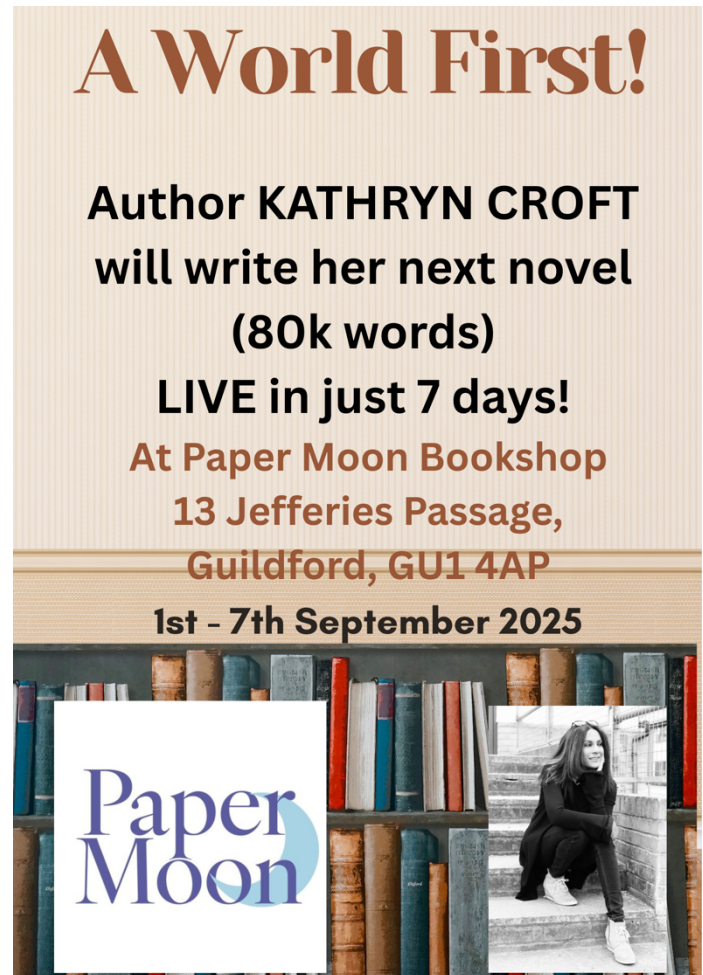

Preparation

Kathryn will enter the event with detailed planning notes, including character outlines and plot structure. No pre-written manuscript material will be used and all prose will be freshly written during the event itself.
